Dear Florence,

I was so pleased to be able to speak with you over the phone yesterday, and to know that you had a pleasant trip and had seen Mary & Corrie.

I know I should be reprimanded for not having written home more often, but both my mind and my time have been engaged with some one person here.

I have a very lovely surprise for you, —

your little sister Edith was married Monday,
and is now Mrs. George King.
George is very, very fine and I know you will love him too. He went to school with me and lives in Syracuse and also works here.

I have been in a state of bewilderment about telling mother, so I thought it best to write about it to you first.
I can't decide whether it would be better for you to tell mother, or wait until I come home, which will be about the time Mary & Corrie will be returning, and tell her myself. I am very disappointed because Frank will not be there. I should love to see him and tell him of my marriage.

We have kept it a secret from George's family too, because we decided that I should tell my family first.

Please write and
tell me you wish me
much happiness, and let me know whether

you will ⁽⁴⁾ tell mother or wait until I come home and reveal the glad news myself.

We have told Sal
and Jack Spence about
it. When you write,
address the letter to my maiden name &
address it to 307
Marshall Street, ^{40 Spence} or telephone there, at six o'clock (New York time), Syracuse 2-1983.

Let me hear from you
Thursday, if possible.

I am very happy. Remember me to mama. - Edith King
